

Buddy Bag Program

When you get the call that changes everything, when your child is admitted to the hospital for a pediatric cancer diagnosis, the first hours are a blur of fear and uncertainty. That's when the WOKC Buddy Bag arrives. It's a sturdy rolling suitcase filled with things that say "we're thinking of you, we care about you, and you're not alone." Inside you'll find comfort items, toiletries, entertainment, and electronics. It's designed to ease that painful transition from home to hospital, to remind families that our Dallas and Fort Worth community is standing beside them. Warriors at our partner hospitals in Dallas and Fort Worth receive their Buddy Bag the moment they arrive for treatment, and families tell us that small gesture meant absolutely everything.
